Death with Dignity National Center is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit corporation whose mission it is to promote Death with Dignity laws based on the model Oregon Death with Dignity Act, both to provide an option for dying individuals and to stimulate nationwide improvements in end-of-life care.

Death with Dignity Political Fund is a 501(c)(4) nonprofit organization that acts as the political arm of the National Center, drafting Death with Dignity laws; campaigning, lobbying, and advocating for Death with Dignity legislation in the 45 states that lack it; and defending assisted dying statutes against legal challenges.

We authored, passed, and defended the Oregon law
(1994/1997/2006); spearheaded the successful efforts to pass
Death with Dignity statutes in Washington (2008), Vermont (2013), California (2015), and D.C. (2016); and led the

As you dig into this year’s Annual Report, you will see that our momentum has never been greater. Now more than ever, Death with Dignity is well positioned to define, defend, and grow the movement for end-of-life choice.

Our Vision

We are ever closer to the day when all Americans have the option to die with dignity. To realize this ambitious goal, we launched the Dignity50 program, whose unique state leadership incubator provides technical assistance and strategic guidance to grassroots activists seeking to achieve end-of-life policy reform in their states. Through education tools and seed funding, we help participants develop their organizations and advocate for Death with Dignity legislation. Read more about Dignity50 on page 6.

20 Years of Death with Dignity

As we look to the future, we recognize the landmark victories that laid the groundwork for our movement. This November marks the 20th anniversary of implementation of the Oregon Death with Dignity Act, which gave terminally ill individuals the legal right to hasten their death in a humane and dignified manner. Years in the making, the groundbreaking victory required patience, persistence, and political savvy. I was honored to work alongside the dedicated leaders who helped secure the law’s passage and successfully defended it from subsequent challenges. The groundbreaking Oregon law continues to provide data we need to pass similar laws around the country. Read more about our historic victory on page 10.

A Passionate Advocate Joins Our Board of Directors

We are excited to announce that Deborah Ziegler, mother of Brittany Maynard, will be joining our board. Deborah’s voice and passion have advanced on a national scale the conversation about physician-assisted death that Brittany began.

Thank you for your support and commitment to Death with Dignity. Together, we are sowing the seeds of change.

Victory in D.C.: Two years in the making

In February 2017, we celebrated as Washington, D.C. became the 6th jurisdiction in the U.S. to enact Death with Dignity legislation. As is common in our campaigns, our work in D.C. began years earlier.

Beginning in January 2015, our team worked with the bill sponsor, Councilmember Mary Cheh, to move the bill forward. We engaged our constituents to encourage their Councilmembers and Mayor to support the bill; sponsored ads and petitions; commissioned a poll, which showed 67 percent of D.C. residents supported the law; provided expert testimony at a public hearing; worked with Councilmembers to provide them with facts for making an informed decision; and helped secure Washington Post endorsements for the bill.

After years of steady work, our efforts bore fruit: in late 2016, the D.C. Council voted twice to pass the Death with Dignity Act, and Mayor Bowser signed the bill shortly thereafter. We battled Congress in its ultimately unsuccessful attempt to override the new law. The Act went into effect on February 18, 2017.

Our victory would not have been possible without the tireless work of our advocates, who persuaded politicians to support the Act. But our work is not over. After failing to stop the law in the review process, opponents in Congress vowed to eliminate funding for its implementation. We will stand strong with the Councilmembers and our advocates to defend the bill and ensure physician-assisted dying remains legal for all D.C. residents.

Colorado Voters Pass End of Life Options Act

On November 8, 2016, Colorado voters passed the End of Life Option Act by an overwhelming 2-to-1 margin. The victory came 22 years to the day after Oregon voters approved the nation’s first Death with Dignity law.

We produced a radio ad featuring our new board member Deborah Ziegler, who beautifully articulated the case for Death with Dignity. The ad, running in the state’s rural markets to bolster support there, struck a chord with voters and contributed to the decisive vote in favor of assisted dying legislation.

California Begins Implementation

On June 9, 2016, California’s End of Life Option Act went into effect, giving nearly 40 million people access to medical aid in dying. Our dedicated website, CaliforniaDeathwithDignity.org provides resources to patients and medical providers about how to navigate the law. We began developing a volunteer-based direct service program to offer qualified dying individuals who seek to use the new law a place to turn to for information and resources.

While we cheered the denial in August 2016 of an injunction, filed by anti-choice doctors seeking to undermine the End of Life Option Act, we anticipated the possibility their lawsuit would be allowed to proceed.

Momentum in Hawai’i, Maine, and Nevada

In 2016, more than half the states introduced Death with Dignity legislation; in the 2017 session, that number increased to 30.

We bolstered our partnerships with local organizations and amplified the voices of advocates. In Maine, we partnered with Valerie Lovelace and her nonprofit It’s My Death. We continued our collaboration with the Hawai’i Death with Dignity Society. In Nevada, we worked with State Senator David Parks, our lobbying team, and individual advocates to secure passage of an Oregon-modeled bill in the Nevada Senate.

To learn more about our accomplishments, visit our website www.DeathWithDignity.org.
The unprecedented growth of the Death with Dignity movement nationwide and our increased presence in states across the country underscore the need for a strategic approach to sustain multiple parallel efforts. We recognize we need to support the lawmakers and grassroots advocates who together realize long-term change.

Since the beginning of our movement, we have focused on empowering local leaders to found and grow organizations to promote Death with Dignity legislation in their respective states. To that end, we launched the State Leadership Incubator, as part of the new nationwide advocacy program Dignity50.

Legislative Connections

Our past campaigns showed us that developing relationships with legislators is one key to achieving policy reform. While no two states are the same, some strategies and best practices are broadly applicable. As part of Dignity50, we facilitate the exchange of information between state legislators seeking to pass legislation modeled on the Oregon Death with Dignity Act. Last December, we hosted a legislative roundtable conference call with California State Senate Majority Leader Bill Monning, a sponsor of the successful End of Life Option Act, and legislative sponsors from several states. We will continue to build this network of elected officials who share the common goal of making Death with Dignity available to their constituents.

—LISA VIGIL SCATTINGER, OHIO END OF LIFE OPTIONS

Fostering Local Efforts
Every successful grassroots organization relies on two components to succeed: expert strategic advice and seed funding. The Incubator provides both, as a comprehensive technical assistance program offering a how-to kit for aspiring activists, including

- online trainings focused on grassroots advocacy basics, messaging and communication, and field organizing;
- articles, recordings, slideshows, videos, and other resources;
- mini-grants providing funding for building organizational infrastructure; and
- one-on-one consultations with our in-house experts.

The pilot group of advocates from eight states completed a series of online trainings and are integrating the knowledge gained into their nascent organizations.

Support the Incubator
As we complete the program’s pilot phase, we will be expanding the program to additional communities.

If you would like to join the program or financially support it, please email pkorchnak@deathwithdignity.org or call 503.501.2461.

“The program has been invaluable by giving me access to successful role models. It’s been encouraging to see that hard work and tireless effort have made all the difference in getting medical aid in dying laws enacted.”

Back to Our Roots: Oregon at 20 and a Path Forward

Each year brings opportunities to reflect on milestones and celebrate hard-won victories. This November, we commemorate the 20th anniversary of the landmark law that started it all.

Oregonians, Courts Decide

On November 8, 1994, Oregon voters approved Measure 16, the Oregon Death with Dignity Act, by a margin of 51 to 49 percent. Almost immediately, we had to defend the statute from a legal challenge that would postpone implementation by three years. In 1997, opponents of the Act introduced another ballot measure that aimed to repeal the law. But Oregonians affirmed the law by an even greater margin, 60 to 40.

Our founding Board member, Eli Stutsman, JD, was the lead author of the Oregon statute and a lead strategist of the campaign to pass the groundbreaking law. He said, “Our early efforts were supported by our knowledge of the practice of medicine, the way we died, and a political skill set capable of breaking through longstanding barriers in law, medicine, and religion.”

George Eighmey, our current Board President, was a crucial ally in the State Legislature. He recalled the 1997 victory, when voters “rejected opponents’ fear tactics, giving terminally ill Oregonians the option to legally obtain medication to end their suffering.”

Over the next decade, our opponents continued to challenge the law, first in Congress and then in the Supreme Court. Each time we faced possible defeat, our team triumphed.

Oregon as a Model

The Act gave terminally ill Oregonians the chance to determine the time and manner of their death and established a template for similar laws across the country. Perhaps most importantly, the Act brought to the fore a conversation about death and dying in America that was long overdue.

Our work behind the scenes to educate legislators and build partnerships with diverse stakeholders has helped pass assisted-dying laws in five states and the District of Columbia. We will continue our work to define and grow the Death with Dignity movement for the next 20 years and beyond.
